REAL REASON FOR THE MOBILIZING OF FORCES IS TO ASSIST PRES. DIAZ

TAFT GIVES OFFICIAL STATE-MENT TODAY—INVASION OF MEXICO IS A POSSIBIL-ITY OF THE FUTURE.

NO MORE SECRECY TODAY

Arrival of Army at San Antonio—
Meanwhile Insurgents Said to Be Gaining Victories.
Mexican Official
Talks.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Mount Airy, Ga., March 10.—(On board the President's private car.)
There will be no further effort to conceal the fact that one fourth of the fighting forces of the United States have been concentrated in Texas for the purpose of assisting President Diaz in suppressing the revolution.

This is the official statement given
this morning to the correspondents with President Taft on his southern trip and sent out by direct orders of the head of the United States government.

Bar of Secrecy.
The bar of secrecy which has thus far enveloped the orders of the army and naval forces to proceed with all haste to Texas was officially lifted today. The direct object of aiding Diaz to suppress the Madero revolution is the sole cause now assigned for the movement.

What Is Planned.
It is now planned to utilize the mobilization of the troops in Texas and ordered to Texas for the following purposes:

To stand ready to invade Mexico.
To check revolutionary movements
in Lower California.
To patrol the border and prevent filibustering.

To serve as an armed threat against any destruction of American property in Mexico.

To engage in army maneuvers for the benefit of Army and Navy critics.
At San Antonio.

San Antonio, March 10.—San Antonio avows this morning to the notes of the revolution which stirred
the soldiers already arrived to a day of activity. Preparations have been made to accommodate fifteen thousand troops here if needed for an indefinite stay. Permanent camps will be installed and a large amount of supplies are being received daily.
The Seventeenth Infantry from Fort McPherson, Georgia, was the first of the 20,000 troops to arrive last night.
Sunday will see the arrival of the entire number.

Plenty of Supplies.
It is learned this afternoon that the quartermasters' department will have thirty days' rations on hand by tomorrow for 20,000 men, and that a train load of fresh meat will arrive here tonight.

Madero Fighting.
El Paso, Tex., March 10.—News
reached here today that Madero, heading the revolutionists, had returned to Casa Grande and re-taken the town.
A courier, who brought the news, said
the fight still progressed on Wednesday
day and at that time the federalists had lost one hundred and forty men.

Takes Issue.
New York, March 10.—Holding direct issue with President Taft, Jose Limantour, Mexican minister of finance, today declared there is no excuse for intervention in Mexico; that the health of President Diaz is perfect and Mexico can easily protect all foreign interests there. Limantour declared that President Diaz was working night and day to restore peace in the country.

Moving As Planned.
Washington, D. C., March 10.—Reports to the war department indicate
all the troops ordered to the border will be there by tomorrow. The naval contingent is expected to be at its rendezvous by Sunday.

Denies Rumor.
Washington, D. C., March 10.—
The Japanese ambassador today emphatically denied that Japan had entered or overland the slightest effort to secure a sailing station for a naval base from Mexico.

Giames Trusts.
Paris, March 10.—The big American trusts are backing the military domination of the United States in making against Mexico is the opinion of Rene Pannu, a noted publicist, given in today's "Excelsior."

TROOP MOVEMENT TO BE VERY EXPENSIVE

Democratic Congress, Pledged to Economy, Will Have Big Appropriation to Make for War Move.

[BY UNITED PRESS.]
Washington, D. C., March 10.—That President Taft will be forced to call upon the next democratic congress which is pledged to government economy to appropriate several millions of dollars to defray expenses of the "war maneuvers" now in progress, is a matter of current gossip today.

State officials are yet unable to estimate the cost of the movement but it is stated that the expenses incurred in sending an army of 15,000 men to Cuba during the second intervention cost the government $6,500,511. With four times as many men being sent to San Antonio, Tex., by rail when the troops involved in the Cuban trip
were sent by transport, a fair idea
can be ascertained.

The appropriation for "transportation of the army" for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1911, is only $11,550, 165—a smaller amount than usual.
Moreover, it has already been drawn upon to defray the costs of eight months of routine army service.

MOBILIZATION OF TROOPS TEST OF ARMY EFFICIENCY

Representative James McLaughlin,
Who Is Declared by War Department to Be Responsible for Present Maneuvers, Gives Opinion.

[BY UNITED PRESS.]

Washington, D. C., March 10.—As
author of the famous resolution which
called forth the report on the army's
unpreparedness, suppressed by President Taft, Representative James Mc-Laughlin of California is declared by War Department officials to be responsible through his criticism of the
army for the present giant maneuvers. He prepared the following statement for the United Press.

By Representatives James McLaughlin
and William D. C. March 10.—As author of the famous resolution which
called forth the report on the army's
unpreparedness, suppressed by President Taft, Representative James Mc-Laughlin of California is declared by War Department officials to be responsible through his criticism of the
army for the present giant maneuvers. He prepared the following statement for the United Press.

While I regret that the maneuvers are not to be held on the Pacific coast, which, in the difficulties of transportation for men, equipment and supplies, would have been a much more severe test for the organization of our military forces and one much more likely to occur, yet the mobilization of practically our entire mobile force on the Mexican border in a measure is a fair test of the efficiency of our staff departments.

I have at different times pointed out that the intervening test between the Rocky Mountains and the Pacific Coast constitutes a great national menace in case of an attempted invasion of the Pacific coast, presenting as would the speedy mobilization of troops and supplies. In a mobilization on the Mexican frontier such difficulties of transportation as would be met with on the Pacific coast will not be encountered. However, I cannot find words to express my gratification that the military authorities have decided to put the present machinery of our war establishment to a real test.
If this is in fact an answer to my criticisms of the organization of the army I will accept the result without prejudice. My heart is with the army.
This is the very training that I have always advocated. We have stripped our entire nation of its mobile forces to place a single division on the Mexican border. Our military establishment is strained to carry this feat
through a successful issue.

This in itself carries a lesson. It is my sincere hope that at the conclusion of this maneuver the military authorities will frankly make public all weaknesses which may have developed.
Congress can then intelligently take up the matter of army reorganization.
I await the result with intense interest. Let the truth be known.

HEARING ON FISHER BILL BEGAN TODAY

Bill Presented by Grant U. Fisher To

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Madison, Wis., March 10.—The as-

of Madison, Ray Thompson of Fort Atkinson, and deputy game warden
Colladay opposed the bill and W. E.
Gallagher and Ed. Birmingham of Kosh-konong and C. J. Hendrickson and
S. C. Burpee of Janesville, appeared in its favor. The hearing was not concluded when the noon hour came.

bers of Camorra.

tails for the start of the murder trial

FORMER PRESIDENT TO ADDRESS CHILD LABOR CONFERENCE

Roosevelt Guest of Honor in Birmingham Today and Will Speak on mer President Roosevelt arrived in Birmingham this morning in acceptance of an invitation to address the National Child Conference tonight on the subject of "The Conservation of Childhood." After finishing his breakfast the former president was greeted by a reception committee headed by Governor O'Neal and Mayor Evans. When these formalities were concluded he was escorted to Capital Park, where he addressed the students of the Bir-

Orleans. The chief feature of his visit will be an address before the commercial club. During his stay in the city he will be the guest of Governor Noad.

MORE TROUBLE IN SOUTHERN MEXICO

Office of Insurrectos Says Real Outbreak Will Occur Soon Along Long Oppressed Indians.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Denver, Colo., March 10.—That the activity of the Mexican revolutionaries
in northern Mexico is merely a blind to cover the organization of the real movement in southern Mexico is the assertion of an officer of the revolutionists just made public here. The name of the officer is withheld.

He asserts the rebels expect to number between 15,000 and 20,000 Indian peoples who have suffered many years under the rule of Diaz. While the insurrecto army are taking the attention of the federalists in the north,
the revolution will suddenly break out in the south and before the government is awake to the danger, the revolutionary army will be at the doors of Mexico City, is the assertion of the officer.

TAFT WELCOMED TO CITY OF ATLANTA

President, Guest of Citizens Throughout the Day Will Deliver Closing Address at Commercial Congress.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Atlanta, Ga., March 10.—A genuine warmth-happy welcome was given to Pres. Taft in Atlanta today, when he came to deliver the closing address
before the great Southern Commercial Congress. A reception committee representing the State and city met the presidential train en route to Atlanta.
The president was kept busy almost every minute from the time of his arrival in the city. Among the features of the day's program were a luncheon at the Capital City Club, a reception at the executive mansion, an address to the negroes of the city, and dinner at the Piedmont Driving Club, concluding with an address before the commercial congress on the subject of "A Greater Nation Through a Greater South."

Marriage License. A marriage license was issued today at the office of the county clerk to Nels H. Sagen of Newark and Olga Hanover of the town of Spring Valley.

BOUNDARY DISPUTE TO BE SETTLED BY JOINT COMMITTEE

From the Legislature of Wisconsin and Minnesota—Views of Various Men On the Matter.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Madison, Wis., March 10.—Settlement of the boundary dispute between Wisconsin and Minnesota, involving "Lake Pepin in the Mississippi river and the St. Louis river at Duluth-Superior, will be effected, probably by a joint legislative committee of the two states, perhaps by the Minnesota legislature will have adjourned. This will be in April, ending the constitutional restriction
upon the length of the session in the upper state.

This was made apparent today by the introduction of a joint resolution
by the senate judiciary committee for the appointment of Wisconsin's share of the committee. Opposition to this method of settling the controversy
which had cropped out since the government was made to the government by the attorney general, disappeared at the meeting of the judiciary committee, when Deputy Attorney General Russell Jackson explained the situation. Senator Victor Linsley of Superior who had drawn a resolution virtually "pulling upon the attorney general to 'take hands off' the controversy, and had declared that the state's counsel had acted without consulting the people of Superior, gave his assent to the commission plan of settlement, when he was shown that in a boundary dispute the only parties to the dispute are the two states, and the city can have no interest in the matter. It also was shown that Wisconsin probably will fare better in a compromise than it probably would if the matter went to the supreme court and that tribunal sent its own commissioners to stake out the boundary
according to the organic act passed in 1848.

As regards the Lake Pepin boundary, Speaker Ingram is said to have withdrew his opposition to a commission settlement, believing that the interests of his fishermen constituents
will be best served in a peaceable understanding. He is convinced, as is the deputy attorney general, that in the Lake Pepin case, Wisconsin's contention that the deep water channel
close to the Minnesota shore, is simply borne out by the law and the precedents, and that Minnesota eventually will concede to Wisconsin the authority it claims, extending over the major portion of Lake Pepin.

Senator Linsley's attitude toward the appointment of a commission changed noticeably in the committee hearing when he learned that the matter has been handled for Wisconsin by the deputy attorney general, whom he esteemed, and not by Attorney General Bancroft. Mr. Jackson began the negotiations and acted
for the state in the Minnesota suit over Lake Pepin during the term of Attorney General Frank L. Gilbert.

burg, private secretary to Mayor Selig,

cratic Herald, the socialist press organ of the city. Sandburg has been

SNOW SLIDE CAUSED DEATH OF ELEVEN

Avalanche of Snow Swept Ten Men and One Woman to Death Near Reno, Nevada.

[BY UNITED PRESS.]

Reno, Nevada, March 10.—A snow slide racing down the mountain side has swept to death ten men and one

grams received here today.

CREATION OF NEW COUNTY MAY EFFECT JOHN DIETZ' TRIAL

Proposed Division of Sawyer County
If Effected Before May 2, Might Mean Change Place of Dietz
Trial.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Madison, Wis., March 10.—Somewhat of a hurry has been caused among the northern members of the legislature by the discovery that under the terms of a bill introduced by Assemblyman Equibull, creating a new county in the northwestern part of the state, the jurisdiction of Sawyer county over the Dietz family and their trials on various charges might be seriously affected. The proposed new county taken in the Dietz farm, and under the Wisconsin law, if the bill should pass and be published before May 2, the trial of John Dietz might have to go to the new county.
The statute provides that cases arising in territory annexed to new counties, which are created "before the case proceeds to trial," must be handled by the new county. Lawyers here do not believe the Dietz case has "proceeded to trial" and will not until the trial has been actually begun.

The bill by Senator Sanborn, to create a new county out of portions of Sawyer, Bayfield and Ashland counties, does not affect the Dietz farm. It was originally supposed that this was the bill that would have a bearing on the Dietz trial, but Attorney McNamara of Hayward, who has been here for the hearings on the bill to take territory off the town of Hayward, says the territory mentioned in Senator Sanborn's measure does not include this property.

PRICES WERE HIGHER AND TONE STRONGER

Prices Were Higher at the Opening
Today of the New York Stock Market.

[BY UNITED PRESS.]

New York, March 10.—Prices rushed higher at the opening of the stock market today. Pennsylvania steel and unannounced opened one half higher and smaller fractional gains were made in Reading, Union and Missouri Pacific. Prices then shaded slightly but the tone continued strong.

EIGHTY THOUSAND KEGS OF POWDER EXPLODED AT PLEASANT PRAIRIE PLANT

BANCROFT STARTS WRITTEN WARFARE WITH LEGISLATURE

Attorney General is Most Insistent As to His Rights Regulative to New Laws.

[BY UNITED PRESS.]

Madison, March 10.—A hot discussion was precipitated in the senate
today when Attorney General Bancroft sent a letter to that body which declared the statute which provides all pending bills carrying appropriations should be referred to him regarding their validity, has been intimated and not observed by the legislature. He declared in the letter he would take no responsibility for any appropriation bills enacted into law.
Senator Thine contended the law reads that the legislature can use its own discretion with reference to what bills shall be referred to the attorney general and it might be well if that official would take care of his own affairs. The communication was referred to the senate committee on Judiciary.

With both houses of the legislature
today given over to committee hearings on the score of more labor bills
now pending a huge delegation of Milwaukee merchants and manufacturers arrived here by special train and opposed the Metcalf and Long bills. The former provides that no famine shall be employed in any manufacturing, mechanical or mercantile establishment, laundry, hotel or restaurant in this state more than eight hours during one day. The Long bill prohibits children under the age of sixteen from gainful occupation longer than 18 hours in any one week or more than ten hours in any one day.

OPEN SEASON BILL IS MUCH OPPOSED

White Bill To Open Spring Shooting
Meets With Much Opposition
In Legislature.

[BY UNITED PRESS.]

Madison, Wis., March 10.—Dogged opposition is being waged against passage of the White bill now pending before the legislature and on Thursday recommended for passage by the committee on state affairs. This bill provides an open season from April 2 to 29 for spring shooting of waterfowl.

The persons who oppose this measure are representatives of the largest hunting clubs of the state. It is pointed out that making the White bill a law will perhaps mean the killing of ten ducks with a single shot. This is explained inasmuch as thousands of ducks nest within the state of Wisconsin and during the season indicated for their slaughter under the pending measure, a brood of ducklings
or at least a nest of eggs may be allowed to die or grow cold in the death of a female duck.

That the passage of the bill would only mean the hastening of end of wild duck shooting and in the least unpopular measure is the contention of the sportsmen who oppose the measure.

SHIPLOAD OF PROVISIONS FOR FAMINE SUFFERERS.

Army Transport "Buford" Left today
For Famine Districts of China
With Food Supplies.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Seattle, Wash., March 10.—Laden with three thousand tons of provisions
the United States army transport "Buford" is off for China to distribute relief among the famine sufferers of that country. The provisions were contributed by organizations and individuals in many parts of the country and were carried to Seattle free of charge by the railroads. The local arrangements were looked after by the Seattle Chamber of Commerce.

TO ELECTROCUTE NEGRO FOR A DOUBLE MURDER

Trenton, N. J., March 10.—Arrangements are about completed at the state prison for the electrocution of John Sears, a mulatto, who robbed and murdered Rev. Amel L. Armstrong and his wife at Dutch Neck last November. Unless there is an unlooked for respite Sears will meet his end in the electric chair early in the coming week.

ONE MAN DEAD AND SEVERAL OTHERS REPORTED MISSING —MANY ARE FATALLY INJURED.

ENTIRE VILLAGE WRECKED

Houses Destroyed and Shock Is Felt
for Many Miles—Explosion
Came in the Evening
Hours of Plant.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Pleasant Prairie, Wis., March 10.—
The entire village is wrecked, the people terror stricken, one man killed,
and three others missing.

One man seriously hurt and many other persons slightly injured, result of explosion that last night destroyed
five of the six powder mills of Dupont Powder Company here.

The dead man is C. S. Thompson, foreman of a mill. Engineer
Flynn is seriously hurt.

Mrs. Ernest Roumell of Kenosha, was fatally injured. Mrs. Roumell was in a grocery wagon, carrying her baby in her arms when the explosion occurred. The horse became frightened and ran away. She was thrown from the wagon and sustained fatal injuries. The baby was thrown into the bottom of the wagon and escaped injury.

It is estimated that 280 tons of dynamite and 20,000 kegs of finished and unfinished Giant powder exploded.
Not a house in town escaped damage,
and many were completely destroyed.
Houses at Bristol and other neighboring villages in the immediate vicinity were damaged.

A strong guard has been placed
about the ruins and no one is allowed within a mile as there is still danger
of an explosion of powder in the remaining storehouses.

The cause of the explosion is not known, but it is believed to have originated in the glazing house.

Night Foreman Flynn, who is in a hospital, today said it was the high power powder in the hot cylinders of the glaze mill that exploded first.

He said he was looking directly at the glaze mill and saw it go. The walls opened, the roof lifted, and a gust of flame above the cloud of smoke leaped into the air. Flynn was thrown down and the pump house fell about him.

The succeeding explosion threw more debris upon him. However, he managed to get out from under the wreckage and though badly injured, reached the ruins for the remains of Foreman Thompson, but in vain.

"Thompson was blotted out," he said.
It is now stated that eighty thousand kegs of powder exploded and cutted an estimated property loss in this village and surrounding cities of two millions of dollars. Police turned their attention to reports that vandals are looting the wrecked homes of the workmen in the village. It is understood an order has been issued by the sheriff to deal severely with the thieves.

FORUM FIVE WINS GAME WITH RUSK

Defeat Their Old Time Rivals in Basket Ball At High School Gymnasium Yesterday.

Yesterday afternoon the Forum defeated their old-time rivals, the Rusk, in the local high school gymnasium. The game was the sixth of the Inter-Society series and was a very fast contest throughout. By this game the Forum feel they have retrieved themselves for their defeat in the Inter-Society Debate. Most of the Rusk team are individually better players than the Forum ones but for all of this they are unable to win over the Forum because of a lack of team work in which the Forum boys excel.

The lineup: Noyes, McArthur, C. Cummings, F. Metcalf, forwards; W. Metcalf, C. Cannon, Hodson and Hanson guards.

Rusk: Hurdle and Wilkinson, forwards; French, C. McVear and Mohr, guards.

Field goals: S. Metcalf, W. Metcalf, Cannon, Hurdle, French.

Free throws: Vlymen, S. Bah, L.

POSTPONED TRIAL UNTIL WEDNESDAY

Case Against Edward W. Miller, Charged With Violation of Sunday Saloon Laws, Adjourned Today.

Despite the objection of Chief of Police George Appleby, the case of the City of Janesville against Edward W. Miller, who is charged with keeping his saloon open and selling liquor on Sunday last, was adjourned until next Wednesday at ten o'clock. Attorney Charles Pierce, who appeared in municipal court this morning for the defendant, said he had an important engagement on a case in Jefferson and, having but recently returned from a trip in the South, stated he was not prepared to take up the defense. The chief objected to an adjournment, as the case had been adjourned once immediately prosecution, and he declined.

City Attorney Maxfield, however, "sold out" with Mr. Pierce's request for adjournment and the case was postponed by the judge.

Miller is one of three saloon-keepers who were arrested by the chief, who alleges that he entered all three saloons last Sunday and found them dispensing liquor. The case against Patrick McGilgo, another one of the trio, will come up tomorrow, and that against William Knapp will be heard next Thursday.

The accident occurred while the mother was in the yard feeding the chickens. When she returned to the house a minute or so later, she found the child's clothes a mass of flames. The mother saved the child's life by hurriedly wrapping a rug about the youngster. One leg, however, was badly burned.

Scherer, a director of the state association, was one of the guests at the assembly and gave an interesting talk. L. C. Whitte of Edgerton was another speaker. ## COMMERCIAL CLUB BULLETIN ISSUED

Setting Forth Facts Regarding Janesville and the Functions and Accomplishments of the Club.

Bulletin No. 4 of the Janesville Commercial and Industrial club has been issued and is being distributed today. The work which has been accomplished and matters which are at present under consideration are treated with the view of attracting firms that are looking for locations in this city.

Among the things which are being done is the establishment of a rating bureau which is rapidly being completed under the charge of Miss Jennette Borch. The publicity committee has outlined a plan for advertising and have prepared a folder setting forth the advantages of the city which will be distributed shortly.

The matter of freight rates has also been a matter for consideration and the proposed raise in the commodity rates has again been postponed by the railroads and the committee on traffic is following the matter up with the hope that the rates will be abandoned.

The industrial committee has several new factory organizations up for consideration and are investigating them closely and are preparing answers to any questions which promoters might ask regarding Janesville.

The matter of legislation is also receiving the close attention of the club and a special committee has been appointed to watch the measures which come up before the legislature at Madison. Some of the bills which have been introduced, it is claimed, have been introduced to the business interest of the state and have tended to drive away enterprises from Wisconsin. This committee is composed of: H. L. McNamara, chairman; W. E. Palmer, J. V. Weber, Jr., A. C. Hough, W. P. Carls, J. L. Bostwick, George Kimball, V. P. Richardson, M. P. Richardson, George G. Sutherland, T. O. Howe, J. A. Craig, S. B. Heddes, H. W. Brown, John H. Jones.

RECORDER LOSES IN VOTE CONTEST CASE

Miss Lillian Decker Awarded Sum of Fifty-five Dollars and Costs Before Judge Tallman.

Miss Lillian Decker was, this afternoon, awarded fifty-five dollars and costs before Judge Stanley Tallman in an action brought by her against the Recorder Printing company for damages due her, as the result of the alleged failure of that company to live up to their agreement in the recent voting contest, in which the prize was a free trip to the Bermuda Islands.

In the complaint filed by Miss Decker's attorney, W. H. Dougherty, the cost of the trip was asked for, but owing to the fact that she was unable to obtain the proper witnesses to prove this exact cost, the sum was stipulated between the lawyers in open court. The amount named by George G. Sutherland, attorney for the defendant, was fifty-five dollars.

The plaintiff claimed that in the recent contest she should rightfully have been declared a winner, but that through the Recorder company she was deprived of this reward. Several witnesses were called by the attorney for the plaintiff, among whom was Miss Clara Seacraft, one of the winners in the contest, who testified in Miss Decker's behalf. P. J. Monat went on the stand for the Recorder Printing company.

The findings were to the effect that all the allegations in the complaint were true and proven and that the plaintiff was entitled to a judgment in the sum of $55 and costs. The cost to the Recorder company is $72.21.

FRANKIE BURNS.

Our Strange Disasters.

How extraordinary are our American disasters. New York alone has had a series of picturesque accidents that is most remarkable. The great fire in the Hoboken docks when mighty steamships drifted up and down stream ablaze from stem to stern; the dreadful Slocum holocaust, and, more recently, the destructive explosion in the New York Central power house, all have been unlike anything with which European cities are familiar. Now the blowing up of a scow of dynamite kills a score of people and shakes the skyscrapers of Manhattan on their earth-shaking foundations. There is panic and confusion through miles of city streets. The damage is put at almost a million dollars. In dramatic strangeness the happenings in our cities stand alone. Only the incredible "Battle of Stepney" which London recently offered can be compared to them.

Render Unto Caesar—

The agent of a recently completed large New York apartment house had a card placed in all the passenger elevators bearing this notice: "Gentlemen will remove their hats when there are ladies in the car." The cards were taken down after a few days, but there seems to be a difference of opinion as to the reason. The agent says that his aim has been accomplished, while some of the tenants said that he was willing to let the matter of the hats take care of itself after he had read a letter signed by a number of tenants protesting against his "mentorship." "If you want us to take off our hats to anybody let the order come from the janitor," they wrote. "He's the janitor, but you are only the agent."

Got Any Old Doorknobs?

Of all the fool hens in the world ours are the foulest yet! They have not laid an egg this year and now they want to set!

Give the Reasons.

Sixty members of parliament have signed a letter to Mr. Asquith setting forth the extent to which there is a demand for women suffrage. The letter states that the town councils of Dublin, Glasgow and Dundee have petitioned unanimously for woman suffrage. That four-fifths of the Manchester council have asked for the same and 24 other councils, including Cork, Perth, Bangor and other places, have adopted similar resolutions. There have been 4,420 meetings in the interest of suffrage, three of the largest halls in England having been filled 45 times by those asking for woman suffrage.

YOUR MONEY BACK

Is Not Only the Letter But the Spirit of the Skavlem Piano Club

We say, in speaking of an advertising, this 'big Skavlem Piano Club: "If the piano is not satisfactory after 30 days' use we will give you your money back."

This is not a "catchpenny" scheme. This is not done as an inducement to get you to join the Club, and then not live up to it. We "mean to give you your money back" if you ask for it. We have no other intention—never have had—nor never will have.

If you are dissatisfied with the Skavlem Club Piano after 30 days' use, all you have to do is to say so, and we will send and get the piano and return your money.

We will not even ask you the "whys" and "wherefores"—we simply will give you your money back.

We know this piano we are selling to this club. We know it like we know our ABC's, and in order that you and the public should know it, we hit upon the old, time honored proposition of "Your Money Back"—though as far as we know this is the first time it has ever been applied to selling pianos.

BUT THIS IS NOT ALL

Club Members Get a Full Year's Trial

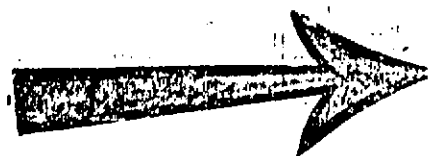

It is our belief that a person cannot get a satisfactory trial of any piano either good or bad, in 30 days. If, however, a thirty days' trial dissatisfies a Club Member, we will give him his money back. On the other hand, we have arranged a trial for each and every Club Piano that will tell the tale—that will show whether or not this Club Piano is worthy of a Permanent place in your home.

Printed right across the face of the contract is an agreement that gives to each and every Club Member the privilege of exchanging his Club Piano, at any time within one (1) year, without one penny's loss.

Explain this, you say?

It's just like this:

You join the Club—you then, as a Club Member, become entitled to all its advantages and privileges.

One of those privileges is a year's trial of the piano. In other words—the Club Member has one year's full time to fully satisfy himself as to the character of the piano he is getting.

Suppose that year's trial is not satisfactory—what then?

PRIVILEGE OF EXCHANGE OF THE SKAVLEM CLUB PIANO.

Privilege is Given the purchaser to exchange the SKAVLEM CLUB PIANO (No. ....), within ONE YEAR from date. The exchange, if made, shall be made for any new piano sold by us of equal or greater value at the time exchange is made, all payments made on the piano herein mentioned being placed to the credit of the price of instrument for which it is exchanged.

L. N. SKAVLEM.

We Will Exchange It

The club member can come to our store and make another selection. He can select a piano of equal grade or a better grade. Whatever money he has paid, whether it is $40, $50, $60, $100, or whatever the amount, will be credited to the price of his new piano, and we will take the original Club Piano back without the loss of a single cent to him.

Honestly now—have you ever seen or heard of a fairer proposition?

These Pianos Are Worth $375. The Club Price is $277.50—Thus Saving You $97.50. The Terms Are $5 Cash and $1.25 a Week, Less Than 1-2 the Regular Terms

The pianos are worth $375. The Skavlem Club Price is $277.50. The price includes everything. There are no extras of any kind. No interest to be added. Nothing to be added for drayage, freight, stool, scarf—absolutely no extras. Two hundred and seventy-seven dollars and fifty cents is the price, and the price includes everything.

These 200 pianos will be sold 5 dollars cash, then 1 dollar and 25 cents a week. The 5 dollars just about covers the cartage and delivering—yet the 5 dollar payment made when you join the club is credited to your account.

The piano is delivered immediately. You do not have to wait until the club is filled. You get your piano when you join. The remainder is payable every week. Club members do not have to pay more than 1 dollar and 25 cents a week. This gives them 218 weeks in which to pay for the piano and still get in at the Club price of $277.50—or at a straight-out saving of $97.50.

BALLINGER'S RESIGNATION.

Richard A. Ballinger has resigned as Secretary of the Interior and Walter L. Fisher of Chicago has been named in his place. In commenting upon this fact the Christian Science Monitor handles the subject in the following manner. In view of the fact that this paper, published in Boston, is one of the most conservative with a leaning towards the administration, its utterances are most significant.

"Whatever may be conveyed by the resignation of Richard A. Ballinger as secretary of the interior, there must be general agreement on one point, that his action was the best possible way of smoothing a vexing situation. It has been well understood for a long time that Mr. Ballinger's retention of the cabinet place was a source of much embarrassment to President Taft, because of the atmosphere created by the charges originally brought against the secretary, the wave of feeling caused by Chief Forester Pinchot's retirement from the public service and the official investigation and report in favor of justifying Secretary Ballinger's conduct of his office. Moreover, there was a disposition, both in congress and elsewhere, to look upon the committee's finding as by no means wholly disposing of the claims of those who had criticized the secretary's actions. Yet the stand taken by the President all along was testimony of his firm belief that the accusations were unfounded.

"As for President Taft's letter accepting Mr. Ballinger's resignation, to say the least it is remarkable. Even granting his tendency to look at all things from the lawyer's point of view, the President, we trust, would hardly care to be understood as requiring proof of criminality in a cabinet officer ere he could see the wisdom of retiring him from office. In governments where the formalities of procedure are much more exacting than those of the United States the effectiveness of the administration is dependent to a great degree on the confidence that it inspires; in many governments, as a matter of fact, a vote of lack of confidence is sufficient to bring about, at least, a new deal in the administration under the United States government of great public values and interests such as, in the hands of Secretary Ballinger, amounted to a colossal trustworthiness, something far short of crime may yet be equivalent to malfeasance; some action or method that affords no evidence of crime may yet prove absolutely the absence of that trustworthiness which has been the great underlying, essential issue in this whole deplorable business. Only those officials who can win and hold the public confidence, as well as merit it, are capable of proper efficiency in the face of great responsibilities such as have been under discussion in this case, and we feel sure that in this enlightened country even a 'body of headline readers' like the American public has, in the main, a sure appreciation as to where and wherein trustworthiness lies hereof.

"Although technically exonerated by the committee report, Mr. Ballinger must have realized that he was not entirely exonerated at the bar of public opinion. The announcement of his resignation failed to arouse the widespread enthusiasm that his friends may have expected. It will be recalled that during the President's stay at Beverly last summer and fall there were frequent rumors that he had decided to heed his close advisers and ask for Mr. Ballinger's resignation, but all such reports were quickly denied. Now we learn from the President's letter to the secretary that Mr. Taft evidently refused to let Mr. Ballinger resign until after the committee had reported. And when Mr. Ballinger's resignation was tendered nearly two months ago, it was withdrawn at the President's request until after the adjournment of congress last week; then a second formal letter was forwarded recently to the White House.

"From the ineptness of this controversy, involving the department of the interior and the forest service with reference to the conservation of valuable public lands, there has been a lamentable confusion in regard to the actual facts. The uncertainty was intensified rather than dispelled by the exhaustive congressional committee investigation, which brought forth masses of irrelevant details, recrimination and here and there a bit of real information. Previous to that investigation the American sense of fair play may have gone far to justify the secretary's refusal to leave the cabinet while under fire; but there has been a growing conviction that Secretary Ballinger, while holding a great public trust, failed signally to perform the obligations attendant upon his position. Chosen to protect public lands involving values of vast proportions, he was unable to prevent a widespread doubt as to the efficacy of that protection. That doubt alone, it seems, could hardly have failed to appeal to an astute public official as sufficient reason for his resignation.

"The controversy that has been waged around the person of Mr. Ballinger may reasonably be allowed to subside with the acceptance of his resignation. But the lesson of his unusual experience will not lose its significance, and, we trust, will not fall short of salutary effect."

So President Dix is not dead, but there are 150,000 Japanese near Chihuahua who are ready to lead a revolution to seize Mexico, and that is the reason Uncle Sam has sent his soldier boys down to Texas. Anything to please the Japs.

This question of writing in the schools is again disturbing the cities of the state. It is safe to say that the school superintendents will decide what methods or systems to use without regard to the business interests.

It takes more than the explosion of a powder mill many miles distant to disturb Janesville even though Chicago and cities in Michigan nearly three hundred miles away were affected.

There is a distinct demand on the part of the public to know what the various candidates for city office stand for and what are their reasons for seeking office. Did you hear it, gentlemen?

Is Janesville to have a ball team this year which can be known as the official city team, or will the fans prefer to read the accounts of the National and American games in the newspapers?

Texas is certainly enjoying the entertaining of the army and navy forces of Uncle Sam and may have the opportunity of doing so for some time to come.

There need be no border warfare to obtain reciprocity with Canada if that is what the congressmen want to know. All they have to do is to vote and the result will be most peaceful.

The brave militia colonels of the Wisconsin national guard have been invited to go to Galveston to watch the army working as though they really meant to fight.

For a spring primary it is pretty quiet all along the line. However, some of the candidates will do something soon and then the fun will start. Have you started cleaning your back-yard and the alleys adjacent to your property yet? If not, make a good start and do it early.

It is just a possibility to be considered that the Mexican insurgents may have to tell tales to the marines before they get through.

Heart to Heart Talks.

THE BOY MUST KNOW.

The other day in New York city it was reported at the police station that a child was being held as a prisoner in a certain house. Investigation showed that a white faced boy eleven years of age had been confined in a room for more than two years.

The father was his mother! When brought into court she wrung her hands and said:

"Oh, the world is so wicked, and I did not want my little boy to be like the other boys in the neighborhood! I wanted to keep him clean in mind and body. He is my boy, and I thought I had a right to protect him."

Poor fanatical mother! Her motive was motherly, though her judgment was bad. And the story is full of suggestion.

All good mothers feel much the same desire to shield their boys from the rough blasts of the world. And they tremble when the innocent one must be exposed to evil surroundings.

The boy must not be kept. He is in the world and of the world. He must know good and evil. The bloom of innocence must be brushed off by rude contact with the world, the flesh and the devil.

How shall he be prepared? Not by ignorance. To be ignorant of temptation is to be helpless. Knowledge is power. To be forewarned is to be forearmed. The boy must know. Somebody—if he is a big boy father is best—somebody must tell him.

It is cruel to send your tender flesh and blood ignorant against the wiles of that world where the wages of sin is death.

Al, the poor mothers—all! Listen and you shall hear their heart cry: "My boy, thus far have you come the pluriest way—under June skies and knowing not the chilly winds of dear December. Midnight of laugh for have been your heritage since you cooed and lugged up to me in your cradle. Yours is the glorious morning face of innocence.

"Say, my boy, in the world where they hurt the tender hearted and murder innocence will they spoil you also?"

Yes, they may, if you let him go naked to temptation and not knowing how he may resist.

The boy must know. Worried, "What's worrying you?" "This high cost of living here." "But you have a good income?" "I know, but my wife is of an economical turn, and I am afraid she may determine to make her own bread."—Houston Post.

THE POET PHILOSOPHER

(Copyright, 1909, by George Matthew Adams.)
By WALT MASON.

One day, in times of yore, a knight went out for glory, with sword and shield and lance; his helm was wrought of steel, a spur was on his heel, a blacksmith made his pants. And as he rode along, so valiant, big and strong, he said, in undertone: "Ods WARRIOR primes! This junk I wear but kills me with desire! It's crushing half my bones! They say that I am brave when I my banner wave, and plunge into the scarp, when I to battle primer, and proud up with my lance some unoffending clump. But I'm not brave enough to shed this hardware and wear a butter sack; a poor old knight need reel around in rusty steel until it breaks his back. I fear the castle laugh, I fear the jest and chaff and of tide and ebb, and so I pack around about five hundred pound of clanking iron and brass." That good old knight is dead; a foeman broke

Gruesome Stories of Horrors of Famine in Celestial Kingdom Related—American Missionary Says 2,000,000 Starving.

Amoy, China, March 10.—A severe epidemic of the bubonic plague is reported at Slokhe, a village of the interior, 50 miles from Amoy.

Slokhe is the seat of a mission station of the board of foreign missions of the Reformed church in America. It is a town in Fokien province. The mission was established in 1887. The workers are Miss N. Zweimer, Rev. J. J. Voskuil, Dr. J. H. Snook and Miss A. H. Smeenge.

There are seven outstations, eleven places of worship, three day schools, one boarding school, a dispensary and a hospital. The church membership at the last report was 59.

Cholera in Honolulu Fatal.

Honolulu, March 10.—The twenty-fifth case of cholera, the first outside of quarantine since last Sunday, was reported. The total deaths to date is 21. Twenty-four Hawaiians and one Portuguese baby were afflicted.

2,000,000 Starving People.

Washington, March 10.—More gruesome stories of the horrors of the Chinese famine stories reached the state department from the consul general in Shanghai.

One traveler reported passing 13 dead bodies in 13 miles on the road. The missionaries tell of the natives eating cakes made of leaves and stems mixed with millet chaff, which they buy with the allowance from the government of three cents apiece. The trees had been stripped of bark, which had been eaten.

Dr. Cochran, the American Presbyterian missionary, declared that in the whole afflicted region there were 2,000,000 starving people. In one village of a hundred families one-third were dead of hunger and pestilence. Snow was falling and many were without proper shelter or clothing.

NIPS PLOT TO STOP PROBE

Governor Dix Restores District Attorney Whitman in Carnegie Trust Company Investigation.

New York, March 10.—A conspiracy to prevent the exposure and punishment of the wreckers of the Carnegie Trust company, by supplanting District Attorney Whitman and placing Attorney General Carmody in charge of the investigation into the affairs of the defunct concern was crushed by Governor Dix who, after issuing a written order relieving Whitman of his powers in the investigation, learned that his letter before its delivery to the district attorney had passed through the hands of men interested in suppressing the trust company probe, revoked his instructions after a conference with Whitman, who exposed the plot.

As a result, Mr. Whitman will resume his work with the grand jury. Mr. Whitman made no secret of the fact that at least three indictments may be expected within the next few days.

Almost everybody likes a shampoo, but the fly in the ointment is the way in which the soapy water runs down into the eyes, nose and mouth. A metal frame holds a rubber sheeting which has an opening for the head. This is pressed down over the head and fits so closely around the

ORDERS OUT TROOPS

OKLAHOMA GOVERNOR SEEKS TO PREVENT RIOTING.

Trouble Results in Attempt to Operate Street Cars After Settlement of Strike.

Oklahoma City, Okla., March 10.—Governor Cruce ordered out three companies of the Oklahoma National Guard to prevent rioting in connection with the local street car strike.

The order followed trouble which came as a result of an attempt to operate cars on the lines of the Oklahoma Railway company after a settlement of the strike had been agreed to by the company and the men.

While there were several fights, no one was seriously hurt. The lines have been out of commission since Sunday morning.

When the first cars started thousands of persons had collected in the downtown district. The trouble began when a crowd of men demanded that a motorman and conductor "show their cards." When they failed to comply they were pulled from the cars and a fight followed. Several arrests were made.

Operation of the cars was stopped, and Governor Cruce was asked for aid.

Under the agreement made it was provided that there should be no discrimination by the car company against men because they belonged to "any organization." It was further agreed that practically all the strikers should be reinstated.

At the same time the attorney general will transmit recommendations in the case of Charles W. Morse, the former New York banker confined in the Atlanta penitentiary. The reports on both cases are to be taken by President Taft on his vacation trip to Augusta, Ga., and it is possible that his decision will be announced before he returns to the capital.

A Royal Means of Travel.
Nothing proclaims the well informed man or woman so clearly as a knowledge of the world, its places and its people. As there is no easier nor more delightful way to acquire this information than by "travelling with Lyman H. Howe," hundreds of local "Howe travellers" will welcome the news of the return engagement at the Myers Theatre, Wednesday and Thursday, March 15-16, with a special school children's matinee at four p. m. Thursday, with an entire new program.

To wander over the wide world, without leaving a comfortable theatre seat, is a pleasure which can be derived only from Lyman H. Howe's Travel Festival, particularly since he now presents many scenes in all the splendid colors of nature. This enhances the beauty and interest of the views (tenfold).

Some of the big features of the new program show the construction and launch of the White Star Liner Olympic; dynamiting the ruins of Stowina; a ride in a double-hulled motor boat at the rate of thirty-five miles an hour; a ramble through London—"the 7,000,000 city"; an excursion through Indo-China; dissolving portraits of prominent Americans; a dangerous though bloodless bull fight; landing passengers in a rough sea at Tunis, etc., etc.

Al. H. Wilson in his latest striking comedy "A German Prince," which will be presented at the Myers Theatre, Monday evening March 13, Al. H. Wilson, the German dialect comedian is keeping up his reputation for giving the public clean and wholesome plays. This popular comedian has never yet appeared in a performance in which there was the slightest suggestion of vulgarity or indecency, and his hold on the theatre-going public throughout the country is due to the fact that never once has there been a character introduced in one of his plays that could in any way be looked upon as caricature of the German race. This season Mr. Wilson has a budget of new songs, and as he sings as delightfully as ever they will prove a pleasant musical treat.

NEW SENATOR FROM MONTANA.

Henry L. Myers of Hamilton, Mont., elected United States senator at Helena on Thursday last, was a member of the state senate when W. A. Clark was chosen United States senator by means of bribery and was one of the men who resisted the Clark bribery agents and exposed the corruption of members of the legislature.

Manhattan Indians.

The earliest notice we have of the island which is now adorned by New York City is to be found in Hudson's Journal. Manahata is therein mentioned in reference to the hostile people whom he encountered on his return from his exploring of the river and who resided on this island.

Small Course for Pride.

The man who prides himself on being fastened to a rather fine line of ancestors is a good deal like a mole hard at work—both are under ground.

Sayings of Famous Women.

"And now, Henry, I suppose you are going to spring that old gag about being detained at the office."—Mrs. Jones.

SHE NEVER DONE THAT BEFORE.

One Exception.
In case at Southwark his honor Judge Wilke remarked: "I believe in accepting a woman's word—except, perhaps, in some instances connected with dress."—London Standard.

"Wolf" Month.
January, the month with the Latin name, had a grimmer name in Saxon England. Richard Verstegan in his "Revelation of Decayed Intelligence in Antiquities," a curious book, published in 1633, writes: "The month which we now call January our Saxons anciently called 'wolf month'; to wit, 'wolf month,' because people are wont always in that month to be in more danger to be devoured of wolves than in any season else of the year, for that, through the extremity of cold and snow, those ravenous creatures could not find other beasts sufficient to feed upon."

Life's Varied Interests.
"The weather's rather bad, isn't it?" said the young woman.
"Yes," replied the nonchalant youth. "Lucky thing it is, helps conversation. It would be a deadly bore to go on forever saying 'It's a pleasant day.'"

Remarkable Woman.
Mrs. Norella Owen, mother of the United States senator from Oklahoma and daughter of the last chief of the seven great Cherokee clans, is an artist of some distinction. Her portraits of Thomas Jefferson and descendants was awarded a medal at the St. Louis Exposition. She not only suffered the hardships of life in the Indian territory, but going back to Virginia with her two children when she was 30 years old, found herself in the tumult of the civil war. At the age of 62, with her children married, she took up painting and she also paints miniatures.

Saved Mistress Trouble.
Confidential Maid (to her mistress)—The master has only just now come from the club, but don't make a scene. I met him on the stairs and told him just exactly what we thought of him.

Salesmen--Doctors

You can save money with a

Ford

Railroad travel is usually uncomfortable. Couped up in a stuffy day coach is an experience that most traveling salesmen despise. Besides its discomfort, it's expensive. Railroad and delivery bills are always high and make a continual pull on the pocket-book. If you are wise you'll save this outlay and make traveling enjoyable and healthy, by purchasing a Ford.

The original purchase price of the Model T is small. Consider that for the price you get a car with all the useful equipment necessary to make any trip under any conditions. Your journeys from town to town are quickly made; you are comfortable in the fresh air and you are saving both time and money. No more poky trains to wait for—you are your own engineer, conductor and brakeman.

For light-weight saves time and thus saves money. Light weight saves wear and automobile wear is expensive. Vanadium steel construction means strength and strength means durability—all points that prove the Ford car the best for road travel of all kinds.

The medical profession is one that usually requires instant service. The doctor's time is never his own day or night. He must answer calls promptly or lose his practice. The horse and buggy used by the doctor to hasten his call is fast being pushed into the background and supplanted by the motor car. In design the Ford Torpedo Runabout is the ideal car for the doctor. It is speedy on the road and always reliable. The old saying that "Time is money" is more than true in the case of the professional man. In this light and powerful Ford car the doctor can cover twice the calls that would be possible with the horse and buggy. As to economy in upkeep, it is impossible to find a superior to the Model T Ford. On account of its design, light weight and strong construction, gasoline, oil bills and general upkeep have been reduced to the minimum. The many hundred miles of doctors who are getting using Ford cars are getting from 25 to 30 miles from a single gallon of gasoline. It's this economy in all Model T cars that has made Ford the popular car for the busy practitioner.

You Do Not Realize How Valuable Your Health is Until You Have Gone Down and Out. I Can Positively Show You How to Considerably Postpone Your Funeral.

As it is a FACT BEYOND DISPUTE THAT HEALTH IS THE NATURAL CONDITION OF ALL LIVING THINGS, many so called INCURABLE DISEASES ARE CURABLE as soon as the RIGHT method is applied. Previous failure to relieve your disorder only means a failure on the part of some one to use the proper way. YOU CAN EXPECT TO BE CURED SOME WAY, and many fully aware of this, continually seek relief by every way but the right one. Now had there been any way but nature's own, would not some of the many others attempted in the past have succeeded? Surely; so why waste time and money any more?

Our methods are not a cure all—in fact we have found that few of the really incurables ever follow natural methods for the purpose of cure—because nature has placed within us what might be called a gauge that tells us when we have disobeyed natural law to the limit so that if, when, our methods are followed conscientiously, for the sufficient time and no improvement has been effected you can rest assured, that your condition is beyond us as it is manifestly beyond any drug therapy or surgeon's knife.

All functional disorders, yield very readily, a few of the most common are given below:
ASTHMA,
APPENDICITIS,
BRONCHITIS,
CONSTIPATION,
HEART DISEASE,
LUNG TROUBLES,
LIVER TROUBLES,
PARALYSIS,
RHEUMATISM,
STOMACH TROUBLE.

All Muscular Weakness and most Physical Defects are corrected. Call at any of my offices and "talk it over" if you cannot come do not write, because absent treatments and faith cures are not in my line. I furthermore promise to accept no case that I cannot aid, as my professional standing does not permit me to, at this late date, make any failures and I will assume no risks. So if you put off coming until too late, only yourself is to blame for disaster.

Dean R. Dinny,
Dear Sir:—
It is with much pleasure that after following your instructions for 8 months, I am able to report—that I am practically cured of constipation and catarrh of the stomach—That I haven't worn my glasses for six months wearing them 8 years previous.

I have gained 10 pounds in weight, good substantial flesh, and am beginning to know what perfect health is.

Mrs. — is coming into perfect health after years of suffering peculiar to women and cannot say too much for your instruction. You may use this letter at any time if you wish.

95 per cent of the people who come to me get well; 75 per cent of those who come have first tried all other methods, failed and then brought the wreck to me.

DOMINANT FACTORS IN THE NEW CONGRESS.

Top row, left to right, three Democrats of the next house who will be important factors, Representative Henry of Texas, Representative Underwood of Alabama, chairman of the ways and means committee; Champ Clark, speaker of the house. Below, four important figures in the senate. Left to right, Senator Elihu Root of New York, Senator Penrose of Pennsylvania; below, Senator Cummings of Iowa; lower right, Senator George T. Perkins of California. Senator Penrose is the logical appointee for chairman of the finance committee and Senator Perkins will undoubtedly head the committee on appropriations, being next in line to the present chairman, Senator Hale of Maine, who retired on March 4.

Washington, D. C.—When the extra session of congress opens on April 4, the make-up of the committees in both branches will be entirely changed.

While the senate does not change hands politically, so many of the men who have dominated its deliberations for the past decade will have retired to private life that new chairmen of important committees will be appointed throughout.

Senator Penrose of Pennsylvania is the logical appointee for chairman of the finance committee, while Senator Perkins of California will undoubtedly be appointed chairman of the appropriations committee. Senator Cummings of Iowa will, as leader of the insurgents, be among the most powerful factors to be considered, while Senator Elihu Root of New York will be among those consulted on all important measures.

In the house the Democrats assume control, with Champ Clark in the chair.

Mr. Underwood of Alabama, who will be chairman of the tariff-making ways and means committee of the next congress.

Democratic leaders in the house differ as to the length of an extraordinary session, but all the estimates are that the session will not last until between July 1 and October 1.

Speaker-to-be Clark believes that four or five months would be ample, and that adjournment might be reached during July. Chairman Cummings of Iowa will, as leader of the insurgents, be among the most powerful factors to be considered, while Senator Elihu Root of New York will be among those consulted on all important measures.

Representative Henry of Texas, who will be one of the leaders in the next house, thinks such a session might run on until October 1.

The selection of committees—those on accounts mileage and rules, first of all—will be the first work attempted if congress meets in extra session. The choice rests with the ways and means committee, which is vested with the function of a committee on committees, though a Democratic caucus must formally pass upon the committee's action.

Of the special sessions called in March during the past 40 years, the shortest term was one and one-half months and the longest almost nine months.

The last extraordinary session was during the present congress. It convened March 15 and remained in session until August 5, constructing the Payne-Aldrich tariff law.

Helping Him Out.
"What's the matter, got a cold?"
"Yes, I suppose like every one else you want to tell me what to do for it?"
"No, not particularly. But I can tell you what I use when I have one."
"Go ahead, one more won't hurt me. What do you use?"
"A handkerchief!"

On Record.
A wise man had his way and said:
"And signed," "Thus it is all right."
The things you wish you hadn't said.
Are what the world remembers best."

Barely Possible.
Even as the long-haired man with the bundle of manuscript turned to go, after a brief interview, there was a gleam of triumph in his eye.
"You don't have to publish my stuff if you don't want to," he said, "but, by Jupiter, you can't keep me out of the magazines!"

Wild Justice.
Revenge is a kind of wild justice which the more a man's nature runs to the more ought law to weed it out.

COACHMAN SACRIFICED LIFE FOR LITTLE GRANDDAUGHTER OF SECRETARY OF WAR.

Helen Dickinson, two-year-old granddaughter of the secretary of war, with her nurse, Miss Dunning.

Washington, D. C.—Through the bravery of a coachman the lives of Helen Dickinson, the little granddaughter of Secretary of War Dickinson, and her nurse, Miss Dunning, were saved.

The near fatality occurred when the team behind which they were riding ran away. The coachman saved their lives by turning the team against an embankment, but in doing so was hurled over the horses' heads and instantly killed.

CONSOLIDATION TO BE EFFECTED SOON

A Special Meeting of Stockholders of Both Monroe Telephone Companies Called to Consider Plans.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Monroe, Wis., March 9.—A special meeting of the stockholders of the Monroe Telephone company and the United Telephone company will shortly be called, at which time plans will be submitted for increasing the United Telephone company's stock and its absorption of the Monroe company. The directors of the two companies believe that by consolidation of the two concerns, many economies could be effected and better service given patrons. The change is to be accomplished on an equitable basis. The value of the property of the respective companies is about $22,000 and $30,000 each. The present stock issue of the Monroe company is $32,225 and that of the United, $25,000. The new issue to the United holder would, under the consolidation, be about $33,000.

The United company at present operates exchanges at Albany, Blanchardville, Monticello and several toll lines, while the Monroe company gives service to this city and vicinity. The consolidation plan is favored by officers of both companies.

BROOKLYN TO HAVE LIGHTING SYSTEM

Plans Are Now Under Consideration For the Installation of Electric Light Plant.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Brooklyn, March 10.—Plans are now being considered here for the installation of a new electric light plant which will be modern in every respect. It is planned to have a system which will furnish power twenty-four hours in a day and is designed to take special advantage of the low voltage tuncable lamps which can be purchased at a low price and which are highly efficient and give a purer whiter light.

A new principle is involved in the operation of this plant, which permits the use of a storage battery operated in conjunction with the dynamo through a floating connection. All irregularities of speed or possible interruptions of service are taken care of by the storage battery. The success of this system has been demonstrated in the installation of a number of town lighting plants and the cost is comparable to that of the old style high voltage equipment.

The cost of operating is also low, and results in service being furnished to consumers at rates that have not heretofore been possible. A rate of one half of what has been charged on carbon lamps can easily be supplied with the new system which employs tungsten lights only. The entire plant is a durable and substantial equipment which requires the minimum amount of labor and expense in its operation.

The storage battery will last twenty years, and the equipment as a whole makes it possible for small towns to operate a plant of this nature at a small cost, and give satisfactory results to the consumer.

C. Clausen, a former resident of this place, now of New York City, is visiting at the home of D. Behling.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Stundley of Beloit visited at the home of the latter's father, Henry Harting, last Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. James Sheard and children of Manchester were guests at the home of L. C. Walters one day last week. Bert Sheard and Miss Sarah Sheard remained for a more extended visit.

Mrs. Larrabee and children arrived Monday from Milwaukee to take up their residence at their new home which they purchased from Robert Martin. Mr. Larrabee and son preceded them a few days before with a cartload of household goods.

Among those who were entertained by Mrs. Josephine Antfeld last Tuesday were Mrs. Lizzie Walters, and Mrs. Lizzie Eddy.

Miss Jessie Walters and cousins, Bert and Sarah Sheard, spent several days this week visiting relatives at Hanover.

U. S. CREAM SEPARATOR

A MARVEL OF EASY RUNNING!

There have been tremendous advances in the running qualities of the U. S. Separator. The skimming power is there. The same that won the world's record in fifty consecutive tests, extending over a period of 30 days, with the milk of 10 different breeds of cows.

With the new Interlocking skimming device, the centrifugal action on the milk is so intensified, the course along which the milk is forced to travel so lengthened, the skimming force increased, that the Interlocking bowl for any given capacity is reduced nearly one-half size and runs with about half the power required for the older models.

Add to this great improvement the fact that the United States Separator is the most successful separator that distributes the incoming volume of the whole milk evenly outside the cream zone, thus preventing any remixing of cream and skim milk; and you will see why it is that the Interlocking style U. S. Separator is gradually displacing every other separator on the market.

The Evening Chit-Chat

By RUTH CAMERON.

TO PUBLICLY call attention to another's deficiencies is unpardonable. Of course, that's no news. Everyone knows that. To call attention to one's own deficiencies is unnecessary and often very awkward.

That, I think, must be news. So many people seem not to know it. There is an otherwise well-bred young girl among my acquaintances who is forever talking about how homely her nose is. Now the nose is not Greek, neither is it anything so startling that people would think about it if they were not so frequently reminded of it.

Indeed, the nose itself is not half so bad as her habit of talking about it. It is perpetually, "What would you do if you had a nose like mine?" or "I really think I would be almost good looking if it were not for my nose." Her friends are kept continually protesting and comforting until they learn to steer carefully clear of the subject of noses in particular and personal appearance in general.

Aside from the fact that this habit of running one's self down is bad policy, because it concentrates other people's attention to deficiencies they might otherwise not have thought much about, it is also bad taste because it holds people up for compliments and reassurances at the point of common decency.

And people as a rule somehow seem to resent such holdups. The girl who is always referring openly to some deficiency in herself probably thinks she deserves praise for frankness, but as a matter of fact, she deserves blame for indulging in frankness at the expense of making other people feel awkward and uncomfortable.

She wants people to know that she is not conceited and that she fully realizes that she is decidedly plain or overgrown and awkward, or that her nose is too large or her skin is sallow, but since this opportunity to prove her own self-knowledge and lack of conceit involves the discomfort of others, she would do well to forego it.

To know one's deficiencies is desirable. To keep quiet about one's knowledge is equally so. Improve your deficiencies when you can. Ignore them—that is, don't think about them and don't force other people to, when you can't.

Admit your deficiencies if you are faced with them, but never unnecessarily drag them into the limelight. These seem to me some pretty healthy rules to follow in this matter.

The KIPFCHEN CABINET

DISCOURAGEMENT is the biggest mortgage a person can carry. —John D. Rockefeller.

It is easy enough to be pleasant when life goes by like a song, but the one worth while is the one with a smile when everything goes dead wrong.

Discouragement. There are women all over this broad land who are growing old and stooped with the burden of discouragement. Convictions are never so bad that they could not be worse, and we can always find those who are not as comfortable as we are and are also carrying the same load of discouragement.

We cannot expect the boys and girls to be self-reliant, to cultivate self-restraint and stick-to-itiveness and grit when they see the mother and father sit down and give up.

There are hard places in all lives, disappointments, reverses, and discouragements are bound to come some time or other in all lives, so that it is necessary that in early youth the right value of things should be taught.

The boy or girl who learns to appreciate the processes of nature that are every day going on under the eye, to enjoy the beauty of a sunrise or a sunset, to see God in everything, has a power that no amount of book learning could ever give.

Far too many of both men and women have an idea that to be rich in the possession of money is the chief aim of life.

Money is truly a necessity and one that we cannot do without; but the riches of a well-tended mind cannot be compared to a full purse.

Discouragement and worry often are the result of tired, over-worked nerves. Get out into the open air, take a brisk walk, call on a less fortunate neighbor, forget self and unpleasant thoughts will fly away.

If we could remember that we live but a moment at a time and that often the bridges of discouragement and failure are but mirages that fade away as we approach, life could be much fuller and sweeter.

EMBROIDERED PONGEE. Pongee has apparently lost none of its former popularity, as some of the new spring gowns are shown among the new spring gowns. Our sketch was taken from one in natural tone, and embroidered, with golden hand and trimmed down front with brown velvet covered buttons. A brown velvet belt ran from side to side around back only, and the cuffs and neck bow were also of its former popularity.

The skirt had a deep-shaped, flaring hem which joined the skirt under a piping of brown velvet. The embroidery on this gown might readily be done by anyone clever with the needle, and at comparatively little cost, and the finished result would more than repay the worker.

The Modern Idea. Our idea of a happy marriage is where the wife runs the automobile and the husband paints the china.

PIMPLES CURED in Ten Days, or your money back. Any one who has pimples, boils, blackheads, liver spots, open sores and eruptions should know it is because of bad blood. The circulation has become contaminated with matter that has diseased the blood, which is being forced out of the system through the pores of the skin. This condition cannot be cured unless you remove the cause. Blue-ter Complexion Tablets purify the blood, strengthen the system and make your skin healthy, thus restoring your complexion to its clear, youthful appearance. If Blue-ter don't cure you we will return your money. Under the purifying and tonic effect of Blue-ter Complexion Tablets the system will be built up and your skin cleared, usually about ten days. "One Touch of Nature Makes the Whole World Kin." When a rooster finds a big fat worm he calls all the hens in the farm yard to come and share it. A similar trait of human nature is to be observed when a man discovers something exceptionally good—he wants all his friends and neighbors to share the benefits of his discovery. This is the touch of nature that makes the whole world kin. This explains why people who have been cured by Meritol Cough Remedy write letters to the manufacturer for publication, that others similarly ailing may also use it and obtain relief. Behind every one of these letters is a warm hearted wish of the writer to be of use to someone else. This remedy is for sale by the Reliable Drug Co., druggists, members of American Drug & Press Association.

Eight-Story Fall Not Fatal. Alexander Hallett, a work on the steel frames of a modern building, while adjusting a rope on an elevator, slipped and fell eight stories through a shaft. Death seemed certain. There was nothing between him and the brick pavement 70 feet below. Two stories down there was a board projecting. He grabbed for the board and caught it. He could not hold it, but he broke the strength of his fall for two stories. The impact threw him into a somersault, but as he turned the fourth story he grabbed a board and again broke his fall. This happened twice in the few seconds in which he shot like a bullet past story after story. He struck the ground, but he had only a slight injury to his skull. Neither arms nor legs were broken.—Philadelphia Press.

As She Understood It. Small Margie while at church heard the choir sing "Rock of Ages, Cleft for Me." Upon her return home she was heard singing, very seriously, "Rock the babies, kept for me."

Appropriate Energy. "What about the efforts to get this aviation meet?" "Keep 'em up."

KEEPING HOPE ALIVE. Hope is the star of destiny. It is the light that leads us on from one endeavor to another. Like men climb the heights we step guided by the star of hope, from one state to another until we are at the point where we would be, but to do this we must ever keep our eyes and our minds on the top.

When hope dies ambition dies and the individuality dies. As long as hope lives ambition lives and man keeps rounding out and perfecting his individuality, which in time becomes the personality marked by his fellows.

The most sorrowful spectacle in the world is that of the man who has abandoned hope, because his life is practically over with him. His eyes behold only the mist of uncertainty and hopelessness. He gropes where he should run and he hesitates where he should act with utmost certainty.

There is something inspiring about the man who is hopeful. He catches you up in the strength of his fancy and carries you forward in spite of himself. He makes you believe in the future because he believes in it. He makes you believe in yourself. Every successful preacher must have these qualities. Every successful teacher must have them. Every man who would lead whether he is commanding soldiers or directing young people must have the hopeful spirit in marked degree.

This best employment there is in life is working out our hopes and as soon as our ambitions in one direction are ended or worked to completion to begin new ones in other directions. But hope can only be kept alive by having a worthy ambition—an object in life that is worth pursuing, an incentive that will work to a good end. And hope must be the expression of an inward consciousness of a desire to live to the best advantage by accomplishing something worth while, and to leave a worthy record of our having lived.

It is with such an aspiration that we start out with hope ever before us like a bright star. It is as if we selected one of the bright stars from the clear night as our guide. It never fails us. It stays ever before us and beckons us upward and onward, have it in them always like another self and no amount of the buffeting of fate can make them separate from

it. It is their monitor and their guide. Without it they would be like children wandering aimlessly about. There would be no direction to anything they attempted and much that they undertook would be abandoned before it was hardly begun because of this.

Hope guided the old mariners when they left the well established routes close to the homeshore to cross the trackless deeps. Hope guided the pioneers in their journeys to new homes in the wilderness. Hope guided the miner in opening the treasures of the earth and hope must guide the pilgrim whatever his destination.

Not While World Lasts. The scientists now assert that the earth is going to dry up. But it is very apparent that the scientists never will.

DRAPED SILK HAT. Silk hats bid fair to be much worn during the early spring season. How many readers of The Gazette know that in inland Australia where the mightiest of eucalyptus trees grow in abundance, that there is no consumption, catarrh or disease of the respiratory tract.

The refreshing balsam thrown out by these trees fills the air and is breathed into the lungs by the inhabitants and all germ life is destroyed.

If you have catarrh you cannot go to inland Australia except at great expense, but you can breathe right in your own home the same pleasant, soothing, healing, germ killing air you would breathe if you were living in the eucalyptus district of Australia. Just breathe HYOMEL; it is made from Australian eucalyptus and scientifically combined with thymol and other antiseptics employed in the Listerian system.

Pour a few drops of HYOMEL in the inhaler and breathe it. As it passes over the catarrh infected membrane it kills the germs and heals the raw, inflamed surface.

HYOMEL is guaranteed to cure catarrh, coughs, colds, croup and sore throat, or money back. Complete outfit including inhaler $1.00. Extra bottles of HYOMEL cost but 50 cents. Sold by the People's Drug Co., and druggists everywhere.

CHAPTER XV.

ON THE KNEES OF THE HIGH GODS.

It was on the evening of the day following the safe blowing in Mount's office in the Temple court building that a one-eyed special train slipped unostentatiously into the capital from the east, running as second section of the overland. Coincidentally with its sidetracking, O'Brien, the vice president's secretary, dropped from the step of the car and made his way across the tracks in the yard to the nearest railroad telephone, which chanced to be in the yardmaster's office.

Fifteen minutes later the result of O'Brien's telephoning became evident. Gantry and Kittredge, the division superintendent, left their respective offices in the railroad building, met in the echoing train shed and walked together down the yards.

The vice president, sitting at the great table in the open compartment which served him as a desk in working hours, looked up and nodded when his two subordinates entered.

"You got my message?" he queried. Gantry answered for both. "Yes, and we were waiting. Your orders have been carried out. Nobody outside of the dispatcher's office and the few men in the yard crew knows that you are here."

Mr. McVickar sat back in his chair, took one of the large black cigars from the open box on the table and passed the box across to his two subordinates.

"Light up," he said tersely. "I am due in Twin Canyon City tomorrow morning, and we've got to thrash this thing out in a hurry. Any change in the situation since your last report?"

Gantry shook his head. "Nothing very important. Mount's uptown offices were broken into last night, and his safe was ripped open with dynamite. That's all."

"Well," said the big man at the table, "what came of it?"

"Nothing so far as any one can find out."

To a disinterested observer it might have seemed a little curious that the vice president made no further inquiry into the safe blowing. As a matter of fact, his next question completely ignored it.

"What has Mount been doing this week?" he asked.

"He has spoken twice, once at Arlington and once at Hallersville. Collins says he has engagements enough to keep him out of town right up to election day."

"That's good," was the nodded approval. "He'd only be in the way here at the capital."

"That young man has been pretty nearly a frost," remarked Kittredge casually. "If he isn't a wild-eyed fanatic, as Gantry here insists he is, he is deeper than the deep blue sea. I've been keeping tabs on him, as you directed, and he has worn out three of my best office men trying to keep cases on him."

"You are prejudiced, Kittredge," was the vice president's comment. "It was the best move in the entire campaign putting him in the field. I don't suppose he has accomplished much in a practical way, but we have kept the Honorable Dave from using him, as he meant to."

"I don't know about the accomplishment," put in Gantry. "There is a four ply mystery linked up in this speechmaking business. At first I thought Evan Mount's sudden popularity dated back to some word sent out from your Chicago office, but when you told me it didn't I began to do a little wondering on my own account. I can't make up my mind yet whether it is pure popularity growing out of his speeches or whether it's the wicked kind."

"Assisted?" said the vice president, with a lifting of the heavy penthouse eyebrows.

"Yes," Gantry went on. "It has been too unanimous. Collins has kept me posted, and he says the invitations have thinned in thicker than the autumn leaves in Yellowstone, and Kittredge's men tell us that the young orator has been making what figured as a triumphal progress all over the state—bands, receptions, committees, banqueting and all that everywhere he has gone."

"But his speeches have been straight to the point, our point," interrupted the vice president. "I've been reading them."

Kittredge shook his head. "Gantry says 'Yes,' but I say 'No,' he contended. "There is such a thing as putting too much sugar in the coffee. Mount's been overdoing it. He's been putting the whitewash on so thick that any little handful of mud that happens to be thrown will stick and look bad."

"We must take chances on that," was Mr. McVickar's decision. "Young Mount's good work has undoubtedly had its effect upon public sentiment. There is a distinctly better feeling toward us, and it is fairly safe to say we must be exceedingly careful not to let the opposition newspapers get hold of anything that can be used against us."

"They are moving heaven and earth to do it," said the superintendent. "And I believe that old Dave is helping them. That is the explanation of the safe blowing incident, as I put it up."

Again the vice president refused to comment on the office breaking.

"What I am most afraid of now is that our young man will be overzealous," he said musingly. "He is something of a fanatic, as you have indicated, Gantry."

"He's more than that," Kittredge put in quickly. "I've had one man keeping tabs on him—Farnsworth—who is as good as any detective that ever walked. He says Mount isn't half as innocent as he looks. His speechmaking before," he said, "Blount has been holding me up to the rack all along; says if he preaches straight we've got to walk straight. I've argued with him, but it doesn't do any good."

Once more the vice president's heavy eyebrows rose.

"You mean that he might be tempted to try compulsion?" he asked.

"Yes—or—in fact, he has threatened to do just that," stammered the traffic man.

At that the shaggy eyebrows bent themselves into a frown of abstracted reflection.

"We must take care not to give him a chance," he announced finally. "During the few days that intervene between now and the election he must be kept safely in hand. It won't do for him to be around and in the way while you two are trying to do business with Hawthorne and the others. Keep him out of the capital. And if you think he has been gathering evidence see to it that he doesn't get a chance to use it. How about that matter in the Fifth ward? We've got to make sure of Grayson this time."

Kittredge held up a thumb and forefinger tightly pressed together.

"We've got the city wards right there," he said, "with the Honorable David pretty safely caged. He is playing a deep game this time—so deep that it is altogether underground and out of sight. But we have him down just the same."

The vice president reached over and pressed the bell push which signaled to his train conductor.

"That is all I have to say," he concluded. "Keep your eye on young Mount and get rid of him for a few days. I'll leave the details to you. Get orders for me as you go up, Kittredge, and let me out as soon as possible. I ought to be halfway to Alkali by this time."

It was young Blount, a reporter for the Daily Capital, who told Evan Mount of the arrival of the president's car, running as second section of the overland.

Blount had tried ineffectually to get to the private car, having for his object the interviewing of the vice president.

Blount thought it a little singular that the vice president should come to the capital secretly, but he did not stop to speculate upon this.

Having something more than a suspicion that Gantry was not passing his threat of exposure up to McVickar, he determined at once to seek an interview with the vice president.

Walking rapidly down to the Sierra avenue station, he saw a light in Gantry's office, and, meaning to be fair first and severe afterward, if needful, he ran up the stairs and tried the door of the traffic manager's office. It opened under his hand. Gantry was at his desk.

"Blount tells me that McVickar is in town," he began abruptly. "Where is he?"

"Blount is mistaken—about twenty minutes mistaken," was Gantry's reply. "Mr. McVickar passed through here a few minutes ago on his way to Twin Canyon City. His special has been gone some little time."

"When is he coming back?"

"I don't know."

"Did you see him?"

"I did."

"Did you take up with him the matter of issuing new tariffs—to do away with the preferential or to level the public rates down to them?"

Gantry shifted uneasily in his chair and tried to evade. "There was very little time," he said. "Mr. McVickar was in a great hurry, and his special was held only a few minutes."

Blount crossed the room and sat down.

"Dick, we've come to the last round-up," he said gravely. "In the nature of things I can't give you any more time. You've got to do something and do it quickly. Let's go up and see the editor of the Capital."

"What for?" demanded Gantry.

"I want you to give him an interview to the effect that a revision of the freight rates is in process and that shippers having grievances should present themselves at once. That will at least start the ball rolling in the right direction."

"I should think it would," scoffed the traffic manager. "What you don't know about the making of freight tariffs would sink a ship, Evan. These things can't be done while you wait."

"But they've got to be in this instance," Blount insisted. "If you don't withdraw the preferential given to the corporations you must do the other thing. Post your legal notice of a reduction of the rates on the commodities upon which you are now allowing rebates, and I'll fight straight through on the line I've been taking."

"And if we don't?" queried Gantry.

"If you don't do one or the other there will be an explosion, just as I've told you. Of course you know that my safe was broken open last night—wrecked with dynamite?"

"Yes."

"Well, unluckily for you, the packet of papers which might otherwise have been taken or destroyed didn't happen to be in the safe. The documents are still where they can be used at a moment's notice. And, Dick, I'll use my ammunition if you don't play fair."

Gantry, long suffering and patient to a fault in a business affair, was not altogether superhuman.

"Evan, you are a frost—a black frost. You stand up so straight that you lean over backward. Don't you know that the Transcontinental is big enough and strong enough to chivy you from one end of this country to the other if you turn traitor? I love a fighting man, but I haven't any use for a fool."

Blount laughed.

"If I have succeeded in making you angry perhaps there is a chance that you will do something. You may curse me out all you want to, but the fact remains, I'm going to explode the bomb, and it will be touched off far enough before election to do the work if you keep on refusing to make my word to the people good. That is all—the all, now, will you go up to the Capital office with me and delete that bit of information that I mentioned?"

"Not in a thousand years!" roared Gantry. "Not in a thousand years!" Nevertheless he rose, closed his desk and prepared to accompany the impetuous politician manager. Halfway along the first block he said:

"There is no use in our going to the Capital office at this time of night. Blount doesn't get around to his desk much before 11. Let's go up to the club."

At the railway club the traffic manager developed a keen desire to kill the intervening time in a game of billiards. Blount indulged him, beat him three games in succession and consistently refused to drink with him.

At the end of the third game Gantry gave a terse definition of a man who would force his friend to go and drink alone and went to the bar. Ten minutes later when Blount went after him he had disappeared, and the visit to the newspaper office was postponed for a week.

CHAPTER XVI.

THE END OF BATTLE.

ON the following morning Mount found a telegram on his desk. It bore the vice president's name, and the date line was Twin Canyon City. It directed him to go to a remote portion of the state beyond the Lost River mountains to examine the papers in a right of way case which was coming up for trial at the next term of court.

This was in Kittredge's department, and Blount called up the superintendent on the phone. Kittredge was in his office, and he evidently knew about the vice president's telegram; also he seemed very anxious to have the division counsel go to Lewiston at once, so anxious that he offered his own service car to be run as a special train.

Blount saw no way to evade a positive order from his chief, but he was more than suspicious that Gantry or Kittredge or possibly both of them were conspiring to get him away from the capital at the critical moment. What did not occur to him at the time was the fact that Mr. McVickar's telegram might have originated in Kittredge's office.

Asking the superintendent to have the service car made ready immediately, he picked his hand bag, left a note for Patricia and began the useless journey.

In all his traveling up and down the state he had never found anything to equal the slowness of the special train. Four mortal hours were lost on the lonely siding. There was no station, and Blount could not telegraph. So far as he knew, the service car might stay there for a day or a week. It was all to no purpose that he quarreled with his conductor. The train crew had orders to wait for westbound 17, and there was nothing to do but to keep on waiting.

Late in the afternoon train 17 or some other train came along, and the special was once more set in motion eastward, but at dinner time it was again sidetracked, eighty odd miles from its destination, and once more at a blind siding, where there was no telegraph office. The car was still standing on the siding when Blount went to bed. But in the morning it was in motion again, jogging now on its leisurely way up the branch line.

At Lewiston, the town at the end of the branch where the right of way trouble had originated, Blount found more delay, carefully planned for, as he had now come finally to believe. The plaintiffs in the right of way case were out of town, and their lawyers had gone to the capital. Blount saw that he might wait a week without accomplishing anything; hence he immediately instructed his conductor to get orders for the return.

THE DINNER HOUR

(The scene is the dining room of a large summer hotel. It is the dinner hour and the room is filled with women and girls in filmy summer gowns, men in white flannels and other fashionable hot-weather toggery and children of all ages in fascinating array. Everybody is talking at once.)

Middle-Aged Woman (who has forgotten to dust the powder off her left cheek, who wears wonderful corals and is surrounded by everything on the bill of fare)—I simply can't eat a thing and the doctor said I need to be built up! There's iron in this water and that'll give me an appetite!

Thin Woman (across from her)—Did you ever try puffed hayseed for weak stomach?

Girl (with a yellow ribbon wound through her hair and a neck a foot long)—And that my gracefulness was what first attracted him to me. Of course, I don't believe a thing a man says, but Jack never says things unless he means them! He's an awfully clever, discerning sort of man.

Other Girl (plump and snub-nosed)—Why, I think he's the stupidest ever! Just naturally slow and clumsy! And the way he squints when he tries to be sentimental!

First Girl—Dear me, Grace! I never say any one who thought every man who barely glanced at her was trying to make love to her as you do! Why, he never looked at any one but me both times he's been here—

Youngish Woman (with a wasp waist and the best brand of rouge)—He did, Henry! He grabbed Jimmie by the nape of the neck and shook him! Are you going to stand that sort of thing—having a great, hulking boy of seventeen beat your innocent child, who's only nine? While Jimmie may not always mind, I will say that he has a perfectly angelic disposition if he's handled properly. He's sensitive and I'm glad of it, for of all creatures I detest that huge boy, who hasn't any feelings at all. Jimmie wasn't doing a thing, not a single thing! Why, I did ask that other boy and he made some ridiculous excuse about Jimmie having emptied into the lake all his bait he had just gone two miles to get! I think it showed Jimmie's tender heart to want to put the little minnows back into the water, where I'm sure they're much happier than they were in the pail with holes in it. And, anyhow, he's eight years older than Jimmie and his shapoles are always in the way, and you've just got to do something about it, or—

Youth of Twenty (flavender tie, socks and handkerchiefs)—Didn't you see her when she came in, Billy? A peach—look over by the east window—in pink. Mefor that!

Other Youth—Betchu I got introduced first! Betchu I take little Goldilocks for the first wait this evening—

Dyspeptic Old Gentleman—If the management doesn't stop these children shrieking while people are trying to eat a peaceful dinner I'll leave! I won't stand it!

His Wife—Now, Richard, do be sensible! You were a child once—

He—Well, my mother kept me at home where I belonged and didn't trapse off to a summer resort and make every one miserable! Why, they played tag down our hall at six o'clock this morning!

Pretty Woman in Blue—You are perfectly ridiculous!

Her Husband—I guess I can see! I guess I'm not blind, though you may think I am! It was exactly 35 minutes by the clock that you sat in that corner of the porch with him, while pretty! You were!

Pretty Woman—I won't listen to such absurd—

Her Husband—You'll listen till I get through, and I want to say right here—

Young Man—Roast beef and the salad and all the vegetables, and, say! Some of the lamb, too, and anything else that's handy and—

Second Young Man—Bring me two kinds of pie and ice cream! and the cake and the cheese! And coffee, Sadio, don't forget the coffee!

Boy of five hits his little sister in the face with his pineapple fritter. Both shriek.

Their Mother (to their father, as she removes the smitten one for repairs)—Arthur, don't be harsh with Willie, now. Remember, he's a nervous child! Look out—he's putting a grasshopper down that little girl's neck!

(In the resultant pandemonium, Willie spills a glass of milk over his father's suit and is dragged out yelling.)

Dyspeptic Old Gent—I hope he gets licked! I hope he gets licked! Maria, pass the butter!

Robber (gallantly)—Bog pardon, lady; you needn't hold yours up. Put 'em down again.

She—That's why I was frightened. I couldn't see a calf anywhere.—Punch.

Paws at Cut Rates.

"A reduction of $2 a year in rent will fetch the bargain hunter every time," said a sexton. "Only last week a young woman who expects to make her home in this city concluded that all city churches of this denomination she liked ours best and would take a paw here, but when she found she could get a paw that suited her about as well in another church for $2 a year less she let all other considerations go by the board and identified herself with that church."

"The cut rate paw hunter is a recognized feature of modern church life, because a new member elects to join our congregation does not at all signify that he shares our religious convictions or likes the pastor and our service; it may mean that we charge less for the paw he likes than another church up the street."—Philadelphia Ledger.

Humorous Feminine Rivalry.

The New York Tribune says that an amusing incident occurred at the Gilbert benefit at the Metropolitan Opera house that was not on the program and of which the audience was unaware. Miss Destinn and Mrs. Homer were both in Paris last summer and both chose the same dressmaker. What is more, both chose, unknown to the other, the same dress, and behold, when they arrived at the theater yesterday, they were dressed as alike as Tweedledee and Tweedledum. Mrs. Homer was first on the program and, as prima donnas are after all but as other women, there was nothing for Miss Destinn to do but telephone to the Ansonia for another gown. The gown arrived within 15 minutes in a taxicab, in ample time to be donned by Miss Destinn.

To Burn Oil on Warships.

The naval authorities are much pleased with the success of the oil-burning equipment of the new torpedo-boat destroyers recently placed in commission, and the tentative designs of the boats of this class which congress will be asked to authorize will call for oil-burning apparatus for the generation of steam for the turbine engines. The latest battleships have provided for the auxiliary use of liquid fuel, which is carried in the double bottoms, and probably those next to be designed will call for a more extended use of this fuel. The authorities, however, are not prepared for ships, depending entirely upon liquid fuel, on account of the fact that it is not so universally available at present as coal.

Bowknot of Brilliance.

Bowknots of brilliants are very smart indeed, and have supplanted the pearl brooch of other days. They are dark with a background of black or dark-colored velvet, or a heavy corded silk. Some have the center of the ribbon done in blue enamel with a row of the brilliants just on the edge.

CALLS LADORS IN NEW YORK FUTURE.

REV. CHARLES F. AKED.

New York—After having served the wealthy church in America for four years, Rev. Charles F. Aked, popularly referred to as the pastor of the "John D. Rockefeller church," has offered his resignation to accept the unanimous call of the First Congregational church of San Francisco.

He openly declared that he had been disappointed by his experience as pastor of the immensely wealthy congregation he is now serving, and said he did not see how he could contemplate a permanent ministry under existing conditions.

Dr. Aked, who left the Pembroke chapel in Liverpool barely four years ago to take his present charge at a salary of $10,000 a year, and who recently received an increase to $12,000, intimated in his statement that he felt he was falling in his duty.

Owes Something to English. "I owe something," he said, "to the men and women of England who loved me and believed in me; who believed in me when to tens of thousands of the free churchmen of England it looked as though I were deserting them in the hour of need."

"I believed that the best work of my life would be done beneath the American flag and in association with American churches. I could give myself to a great work with deathless passion. But such a work does not seem possible in this church."

The pastor regretfully acknowledged his fears that the great enterprises which he had hoped to enter as pastor of the wealthy church were only "such stuff as dreams are made of." He chafed under the failure of the church to provide a larger edifice and to undertake larger enterprises.

"So far as we can see today," he declared, "there is no future for this church or for my ministry."

Dr. Aked gave the Fifth avenue congregation ten days of grace in which to consider the situation before he should say definitely whether he would accept the call to the Pacific coast.

"Let those who love me pray for me," he concluded, "that I may make no mistake through erring judgment, and for this church that it may both interpret and accomplish the purposes of Jesus Christ, our Lord."

To the admonitions that he should have patience for the evolution of the great things, Dr. Aked replied that such an attitude called for "the highest type of enthusiasm, and enthusiasm which illumines detail and makes drudgery divine."

"Does such a spirit exist in our church?" he asked. "It is for you to say, not me."

Cynical. "Blingins must be very much in love with his wife to buy her so much jewelry," "Perhaps," answered Miss Cavendish, "although it is sometimes difficult to determine whether expensive gifts are inspired by affection or a bad conscience."

DYSPEPSIA NOT ALWAYS A STOMACH TROUBLE.

Most people imagine that food is digested in the stomach. This is only partly true or rather mostly not true. The stomach secretes pepsin and the necessary acids to digest meat, eggs, etc., that is abundant in most of our food consists of fats and starch. The seat of most cases of dyspepsia is not in the stomach but in the pancreas and small intestines. The pancreatic gland secretes pancreatic juice which emulsifies and digests fats while diastase is the main digestant, digesting all starchy foods, bread, potatoes, pie, cakes, etc. These are all digested in the small intestines. Improper eating or overeating of certain substances or insufficient secreting, necessarily calls for more pancreatic and diastase than nature ordinarily supplies. Now, what's the remedy? If pepsin and diastase don't agree with you or your stomach is weak, why, take pancreatic and diastase to temporarily assist nature, add to these good stomach tonics like Gentian, Lithia acid, Cascara and aro-matized, and you have a scientific and efficient stomach remedy. Mr. Pfen-nig, our Graduate Pharmacist, has compounded this prescription so many times that we now call it Digestion Remedy No. 20253. We advise you to take this number and at once get a bottle for any case of indigestion or stomach trouble. The price is 50c. This remedy is not a patent medicine, but a perfectly harmless prescription compounded for you fresh in liquid form, the only proper way of taking stomach remedies as tablets do not thoroughly mix with the food to your best results. Remember the name, Digestion Remedy No. 20253. Barker Drug Co., Milwaukee and River St., the drug store that makes a specialty of drugs.
